CHILD USA is the leading nonprofit think tank working to end child abuse and neglect in the United States. CHILD USA engages in high-level legal, social science, and medical research and analysis to derive the best public policies to end child abuse and neglect. CHILD USA produces evidence-based solutions and information needed by policymakers, organizations, lawyers, media, and society to increase child protection and the common good. Our goal is to help millions of children at a time. For more information about CHILD USA, please visit our website at <https://www.childusa.org/>.
