PREFACE

This bibliography started off as a 5-page table of references for a report I was asked to prepare for an attorney. The subject of the report was general prior knowledge of bishops and popes of sexual abuse of children minors by Catholic clergy. Shortly after this report had been circulated among some attorneys I was asked to prepare variations on it. This entailed expanding the table of resources.

My original motivation for the bibliography was for strictly private use: I had been collecting articles, scholarly and otherwise, since the emergence of the sexual abuse issue in 1984. I also began buying books about clergy sexual abuse once they started coming out. The very first book that I discovered was Clergy Malpractice, written by the late Robert McMenamin and published in 1988. Robert had been a Church attorney who switched and began representing victims.

The bibliography began to grow as I purchased every book I could find related to clergy sexual abuse. I added every scholarly article I could find as well. At some point I decided to add new sections for works published in areas that were either directly or indirectly related to the issue. As I added more books I decided to divide the bibliography into sections. I do not recall exactly when I started developing a mailing list but I believe it was sometime in 2005. By then Dick Sipe, Pat Wall and I were putting the finishing touches on Sex, Priests and Secret Codes which also began as an expanded report on prior notice that reached back to the fourth century. The book was published in 2006 and is still moving in hard copy and in electronic version as well.

I continue to expand the bibliography with the results of my own research but I also gratefully depend on the generous help of many others who send me suggestions for new entries, books and articles alike. I publish the bibliography on an occasional basis depending on whether or not I have new entries and also depending on my own workload. I have an email list to which I add anyone who is interested. The bibliography is also published on Richard Sipe's web page, www.richardsipe.com and on Bishop-AccountantBilty.org. This endeavor has two purposes: the first is personal because it is a way for me to keep track of my own library, something I decided I needed after I started buying duplicates of books I already had. The second, and more important purpose is to provide, hopefully, a source of assistance to anyone looking for information about any of the several sections, or anything else for that matter.

The next publication will contain a section that is not necessarily related to sexual abuse. I have always had an interest in and actually a love for medieval law. So I decided to start cataloging my articles and books on medieval law. Something there might be of interest to someone who reads the bibliography. My other passion is aviation but I doubt very much if I will add those resources to the bibliography.

I do not have copies of every article cited, but I do have electronic versions of probably 95 percent of those listed and I am most happy to provide them to anyone who asks. Finally, my deep gratitude for all who have encouraged me and who have contributed to the bibliography.

REPORTS FROM INVESTIGATIONS

CHRONOLOGICAL LIST OF REPORTS ON OR RELATED TO SEXUAL ABUSE BY CATHOLIC CLERGY: 1970-2020

This is a list of reports about sexual abuse of minors by Catholic clergy completed by various organizations and bodies between 1970 and 2017. Certain of the reports do not deal directly with sexual abuse of minors but with the issue of the sexual maturity of Catholic clergy.

The reports come from a variety of sources: there are official reports from investigations or inquiries conducted by both governmental agencies of several countries or by the Catholic Bishops in certain countries. There are also reports compiled by private, non-governmental or religious organizations such as Amnesty International or the Center for Constitutional Rights. There are also reports compiled by individuals who have conducted surveys or research.

The first two reports on the psychological health of Catholic priests do not deal directly with sexual abuse of minors. These two reports were commissioned by the United States Catholic bishops. The conclusions of the authors of each report relate to the sexual maturity of Catholic clergy. Sexual immaturity has been determined to be a causative factor for some priests who have sexually abused young adolescents.
